

SG Concepts, LLC

Sharpening a Competitive Edge

Who We Are

SG Concepts is the pairing of Sean Murphy and Greg Hamilton, competitive shooters and industry professionals, to offer niche training opportunities for those looking to expand their knowledge base and skillsets on their quest for better results on the range and in the field. Our professional experience is with industry-leading manufacturers of precision rifles, optics and accessories. Let us help you elevate your performance by Sharpening a Competitive Edge.

Our Team Competitive Success

We both have extensive competitive shooting experience, however after a hasty pairing for the 2017 Stillwater Tactical Challenge, we have been very successful in team shooting competitions. Our individual strengths combined with effective teamwork have made us a team known for fierce competition while having fun on a course of fire.
